REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The base claims are: 1 and 33.

The present claims are deemed allowable over the references since the references fail to disclose or render obvious a disposable cutting sheet for cutting and preparation of food items thereon, comprising a first cut-resistant layer having a first surface area and including a cellulosic ply and thermoplastic material ply, wherein the thermoplastic material ply of the first layer includes a plurality of apertures therethrough and a second layer having a second surface area and including a cellulosic ply and a thermoplastic material ply, wherein the cellulosic ply of the first layer is disposed on and secured to the cellulosic ply of the second layer such that portions of the thermoplastic and cellulosic plies of the second layer extend beyond the first surface area of the first layer to form a border completely surrounding the first layer.

Pearlstein (U.S. Patent No. 5,709,879) discloses a single use processing substrate (absorbent packaging, title) comprising a first layer (tab, col. 7, line 17) and a second layer (panel, col. 7, line 19). The first layer is deemed to have a first surface area and includes a cellulosic ply (absorbent layer, col. 6, line 67 and col. 5, line 47) and a thermoplastic ply (apertured film, col. 6, line 67). The second layer is deemed to have a second surface area and includes a cellulosic ply (absorbent layer, col. 6, line 67 and col. 5, line 47) and a thermoplastic material ply (film of polyethylene, col. 7, line 4). As can be seen from figure 9 in Pearlstein the first layer is secured to the second layer such that a portion of the second surface is laterally disposed outside of the first surface area and wherein the portion of the second surface area includes sections of the thermoplastic ply and the cellulosic ply.

Pearlstein fails to disclose that the cellulosic ply of the first layer is disposed on and secured to the cellulosic ply of the second layer such that portions of the thermoplastic and cellulosic plies of the second layer extend beyond the first surface area of the first layer to form a border completely surrounding the first layer.

In sum, the prior art of record fails to teach or suggest a disposable cutting sheet having all the features of the base claims.

4. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
